

CHICAGO MEN PLEDGE $50,000 FOR SANITARIUM

VALMORA RANCH NEAR WATROUS WILL BE PURCHASED AS SITE

PLANS ALREADY OUTLINED

Dr. E. Fletcher Ingals, Head of the Proposed Phthisis Colony Explains Its Purpose—Patients to Pay and Work—Aid for the Deserving Who are Able and Willing to Help Themselves is Aim.

Despite local attempts to discredit the plans now being formulated in Chicago by prominent physicians and business men to establish a big sanitarium for the treatment of persons in the incipient stages of tuberculosis, the latest information points to the early consummation of these plans by converting the Valmora ranch near Watrous into an extensive phthisis colony.

At the head of the project is Dr. E. Fletcher Ingals, of Chicago. Associated with Dr. Ingals are prominent Chicago doctors and philanthropists, who have organized the Chicago Sanitarium association for the scientific treatment of tuberculosis. Dr. Ingals is a graduate of Chicago university and Rush Medical college and a specialist of splendid reputation.

The Chicago Record-Herald in a recent issue devotes considerable space to giving the details of the plans of the project, also printing a large half-tone of Dr. Ingals. The Record-Herald says:

"At a meeting of business men and physicians, held Friday evening, immediate plans for the founding of a sanitarium for incipient consumptives in New Mexico was made. Business men pledge $50,000 to start the project, and more money is to be raised to purchase and equip a place that will accommodate not less than 300 patients.

"A committee composed of business men and physicians is to be selected by Dr. E. Fletcher Ingals, president of the Chicago Sanitarium association, organized a few weeks ago by twenty-five prominent Chicago physicians, to work out plans for the establishment of the colony.

"It is probable that the Valmora ranch of 1,000 acres, twenty-five miles from Las Vegas, will be purchased for the colony. It will be equipped to accommodate fifty patients to start with.

"Representatives of the Association of Commerce, the Illinois Manufacturers' association, the Industrial club, the Commercial club, and wholesale and retail houses of Chicago attended the meeting, and all expressed themselves in hearty support of the plans of the physicians.

John G. Shedd to Aid.
"I'm willing to aid," John G. Shedd of Marshall Field & company said. "I am equally certain that all the large interests in Chicago will support this worthy enterprise. The project will find favor throughout the country, and now is the time to act." Other speakers who talked in favor of an early start on the plans were Joseph Basch, John M. Glenn, Edwin M. Skinner and Mrs. Frank Billings, Henry B. Favill, J. B. Murphy, A. J. Ochsner, G. W. Webster and R. H. Babcock.

"While the Chicago physicians have planned this project," President Ingals said, "it will not be entirely a local affair. Subscriptions will be accepted from all sources, and the project will be non-sectarian."

"It is planned to make the scheme

more comprehensive than that of any similar institution in the country. In addition to treating cases of incipient tuberculosis the patients will be also taught outdoor occupations and be made to do outdoor work under the direct supervision of the physicians in charge of the sanitarium.

Charges Will Be Moderate.
"We aim to prepare the patient so that when he is cured of the disease he will never have to go back into an office or behind a counter," Dr. Edwin B. Tuteur, secretary of the association, said. "The purpose of the institution is to furnish people of moderate means a place to be treated where the charges will not be excessive and where they can be partially self-supporting by giving their labor to the colony."

"Now there is no sort of a private institution where patients are properly cared for at rates much less than $20 a week. We will charge $10 a week to begin with, and that will be cut in two where the patients work. Later the prices will be reduced, in all probability, as we desire to make the colony barely self-sustaining. None of the officers of the association or physicians will receive salaries."

In its issue of Saturday, the Record-Herald says:

"Help for a class of people for whom there now is practically no help, demonstration of the fact that a popular tuberculosis sanitarium can be self-sustaining, are the two main objects of the Chicago Sanitarium association, which has been promised the financial backing of prominent Chicago business men in establishing a tuberculosis sanitarium at Valmora Ranch, near Las Vegas, N. M."

"The first comes from the fact that there are thousands of deserving persons able to pay from $5 to $10 a week for help, but cannot pay enough to go to an expensive place for rich patients, and at the same time do not wish to become objects of charity. The second springs from a hope that if it can be shown that such an institution can be made self-supporting others will spring up in all sections of the country."

Only Hopeful Cases.
"We intend to take only persons who have a good chance for recovery," said Dr. E. Fletcher Ingals, president of the association. "We feel that we can do the most good in this way, as it is certain that we will not be able to care for all applicants for relief. We shall charge them a small sum weekly, not to exceed $10, and we shall provide work for them to do and pay them for it."

"The rich can pay to go wherever they like, and the poor are taken care of by the city or county. But there is a class who cannot go to the best sanitarium, and who will not become objects of charity, and these persons we wish to reach."

"We shall get this tract of land near Las Vegas and allow our patients to work on it. They can make garden, do work in the fields and around the stables, raise chickens and do many other things that will be helpful at a place of this kind. We will pay regular wages for this work. If we can demonstrate that the sanitarium will support itself, organizations in all parts of the country will take heart and try similar experiments."

Equipment on Ground.
"The contributions of our Chicago friends will give us a start. Much of the necessary equipment is now on the ground, having been leased by a fraternal order from a doctor, who ran a private sanitarium there. This includes small wooden cottages which can be thrown wide open to admit the fresh air needed."

"We will give the patients a systematic exercise in the shape of farm work, medical treatment, fresh air, sunlight, and, above all things, keep their thoughts off their ailment by giving them other things to think about."

"In most sanitariums there are half as many employees as patients."

NO MORE DISTRESS FROM THE STOMACH

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure almost any chronic case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach trouble.

By having our patients do the work we can cut off this expense. It has been demonstrated in a great English sanitarium that patients do better when they work regularly. At Las Vegas the climate is dry, there is lots of sunshine and patients could work in the open air every day in the year.

"The cost of living can be cut down considerably by buying in quantities, but if persons went there alone it would be much higher. In short, our aim is to help deserving patients to help themselves."

FOR THE AMBITIOUS WOMAN.

A great man said, "Be not the first to try a new thing nor the last to forsake an old."

But note—in this life the time always comes to throw over the old for the new. Time itself is change. You must change with time or fall behind the procession.

Don't let prejudice keep you from the benefits your neighbors enjoy, from modern improvements in all lines.

Baking Powders have improved along with everything else. But you'll never know it till you try K. C. Baking Powder. Guaranteed the Best at Any Price, the acme of perfection, the splendid result of modern scientific research.

If you don't agree that K. C. Baking Powder makes your baking lighter, sweeter, more delicious than any other, your grocer refunds your money. The manufacturers guarantee that your baking will always be perfectly raised, sweet and palatable, pure and wholesome.

And K. C. costs you less—no "Trust" prices, but a fair price for a perfect Baking Powder. You'll marvel at the saving and ask how it can be done. Answer—"Not in the 'Trust'."

If you would keep your friends keep your troubles to yourself.

NOVEMBER WEATHER SUMMARY

MONTH JUST PAST WAS ONE OF
OF THE WARMEST IN 15

SHORTAGE OF RAINFALL

The Amount of Sunshine Was Large, the Winds Were Moderate and There Was an Absence of Severe Storms—Detailed Report of Section Director C. E. Linney Exceedingly Interesting.

(By C. E. Linney.)

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 13.—The temperature for the month of November averaged considerably above the normal. Only twice in the last fifteen years has the month shown a higher average temperature for the territory—46.50 in 1897, and 46.40 in 1901. With the warmth a decided shortage in precipitation occurred. While a much smaller average has occurred before, notably in 1897, (0.06), 1903 (T), and 1904 (0.20), nevertheless the dryness was serious. The storm of the 27th to 30th, however, relieved the situation in the north half of the territory, and gave a good average to the northeast counties especially.

The warmest weather of the month occurred from the first to the tenth, but a second period, the 19th to the 25th, also gave several warm days. Two cool spells also occurred the first from the 12th to the 18th, and the second from the 27th to the close of the month. The 30th was probably the coldest day of the month, although the lowest local readings were recorded on the 16th and 17th in many instances.

Two periods of precipitation occurred; the first, from the 10th to the 15th, was mostly confined to the north and the east counties; the second, from the 27th to the 30th, was mostly confined to the north half of the territory. In the first a few thunderstorms occurred and the precipitation was heaviest in the northeast counties and was largely wet snow. The south and the west counties were almost without precipitation, or at most but a fraction of the normal amount and the apparently fair average for the territory is due to the good average in the northeast counties. In many ways the precipitation was similar to November, 1908, although the average snowfall last year during November was considerably greater than during the month just closed.

The amount of sunshine was large, especially in the south and the west counties. Winds of the month were light to moderate, and no severe storms or gales occurred. The prevailing direction was from the west.

Temperature.
The mean temperature for the territory, determined from the records of 63 stations having a mean altitude of about 5,000 feet, was 45.2 degrees, or 2.3 degrees above the normal, and 4.1 degrees above the mean of November, 1908. The highest local monthly mean was 53.8 degrees at Tularosa, and the highest recorded was 85 degrees at Tucumcari on the 4th. The lowest local monthly mean was 28.8 degrees, at Hopewell and the lowest recorded, 8 degrees below zero on the 16th at Red River canyon. The greatest local range in temperature was 71 degrees at Logan and Red River canyon, and the least 51 degrees at Santa Fe; the greatest daily average for the districts were: No. 7 (Northeast) 46.2 degrees; No. 25, (Pecos and Rio Grande) 44.7 degrees; No. 9, (Western) 45.0 degrees.

The average precipitation for the Territory, determined from the records of 127 stations, was 0.57 inch, or 0.36 inch below the normal and 0.28 inch below the average of November, 1908. The greatest monthly amount was 2.47 inches at the railroad station at Tucumcari, and the least nothing at 16 stations, while 12 additional reported but a trace. The greatest amount in any 24 hours was 1.20 inches at Elizabethtown on the 23-24th. The average rainfall was 4.3 inches. The average number of days with 0.01 inch or more precipitation was 3; average number of clear days 19; partly cloudy 6, cloudy 5. The district averages are as follows: No. 4 (Northeast) 1.26 inches, snowfall 9.9 inches; No. 8, (Pecos and Rio Grande) 0.34 inch, snowfall 3.5 inches; No. 9, (Western) 0.10 inch, snowfall 0.6 inch.

GREY HOUNDS USED TO RUN DOWN COYOTES

George Caseaman and G. Fitzgibbon, who are in charge of Graaf & Hayward's slaughter house near this city, came to town yesterday bringing three coyotes which their grey hounds had run down in the vicinity of the Fred Harvey dairy. Two of the coyotes were caught alive, one being presented to Garnett Burks, Jr., of the Mystic theatre, and the other turned loose in the streets again for an exhibition, showing what the hounds could do. The coyote refused to run, being too near dead. Three of the dogs, "Cap", "Blue Belle" and "Crazy" are especially clever dogs and in very few instances do the coyotes run more than a mile before the dogs are on them.

The coyotes this year have done more damage among the sheep than for many years past, one hundred and fifty sheep being killed near Watrous a week ago, after the snow storm. Mesars Caseaman and Fitzgibbon with their dogs, have captured or killed fourteen coyotes in the last few weeks.
